

Senior Duologue

Person 2 pulls phone out and answers facetime.

Person 1 – What on earth are you doing outside?

Person 2 – Calm down has something happened?

Person 1 – Of course something has happened, you're on your second run of the day.

Person 2 – Oh you scared me, didn't you hear the new lockdown rules?

Person 1 – No I haven't, what are they?

Person 2 - The new rules say that we can go outside for unlimited exercise.

Person 1 – Oh how fantastic! (being sarcastic) That's a good rule considering I wasn't even going out for my one-hour of exercise.

Person 2 – Exercise is good for you. It gets those endorphins going, you know and makes you feel good. You should try it.

Person 1 – I get plenty of feel good factor eating chocolate thank you very much and that's good enough for me.

Person 2 – I can't wait for this lockdown to be over.

Person 1 – Me too!

Person 2 - What's the first thing you're going to do once lockdown is lifted?

Person 1 – I'm going to throw a massive party! What about you?

Person 2 – I'm going to really appreciate the little things in life that we used to have.

Person 1 – Really?

Person 2 – Yeah but don't worry, I'll still come to the party! (Both laugh)
